Tennis Week at Newport Closes With Large Ball

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice and Mr. and Mrs. William Fahnestock Entertain Large Gatherings on Two Successive Evenings.

SO many entertainments crowded into a few days have almost made it necessary for one to use a date book this week. It was all in accordance with a usual custom for society at Newport to entertain the players during tennis week, and there was no holding back.

The culmination of events came to-night with a ball for 300 guests given by Mr. and Mrs. William Fahnestock. Villa Ross, which they are occupying this summer, was decorated for the occasion, and two places were used for the dancing, the main ballroom and a marquee on the lawn erected for the purpose.

On Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice gave a ball at Miramar. There were also over 300 present at this event. A buffet supper was served, the usual ballroom and arched hall being used for the dancing, while Conrad's orchestra played.

Mrs. Henry Clews gave a dinner for twenty guests at the Rocks this evening. Afterward the party joined the ball at Villa Ross. Many other dinners were given. Mr. and Mrs. W. Goudy Loew had friends for dinner at the Climbake Club. Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Warren had a luncheon Thursday. Mr. Conde Nast entertained with a dinner dance on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffer Tailor had a dinner Friday evening at Honeyuckle Lodge, afterward taking their guests to the ball at Miramar, and on Thursday Mrs. Vanderbilt threw open the Breakers for a large buffet luncheon, at which all the tennis players were invited.

Reception Aboard Flagship.
There was also much entertaining in naval circles this week. Thursday afternoon Rear Admiral John D. McDonald, commanding the fleet, gave a reception aboard the flagship, which was largely attended by those from society. The main deck of the Wyoming was used for dancing, and the Admiral and his aid received under a canopy of palms and hydrangeas.

Other naval events included several entertainments for Miss Christine Lee Lincoln, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Gatewood S. Lincoln, whose marriage to Ensign William Sinton took place last evening at Trinity Church. Among those entertaining for the bride and bridegroom were Capt. and Mrs. Thomas J. Senn, who gave a dance last evening for them at the Torpedo Station; Commander and Mrs. Frank S. Sader, who gave a dinner for them Friday evening; and Commander and Mrs. Percy K. Robertson, who had a luncheon on Thursday for them.

In spite of the fact that tennis at the Casino has drawn gatherings both morning and afternoon golf has not been neglected. An interesting event will take place this afternoon at the Ocean Links, when there will be an exhibition of medal play between Messrs. George Guilford, George Rotan and Francis Guilford. Mr. Rotan has invited all those interested in golf to follow the play. Among those who have turned in good cards this week in the play for the gold medal are Messrs. Conde Nast, Bertrand Cruger, T. Suffer Tailor, J. H. Gwathmey, Jr., Robert Strawbridge, Dutee W. Flint, Austen Gray, Jay Gould, Dr. Robert Tunstun Taylor, C. H. Hays, Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. McClure, Henry R. Taylor, Alfred M. Coates and Cyril B. Judge.

At the Country Club also there has been much activity. There was the weekly tournament this afternoon. That started earlier in the week was won by Mrs. W. Goudy Loew and Mr. W. R. Lewis, the prizes being donated by Mrs. Stuart Duncan. Mrs. Loew and Mr. Lewis had to go to the nineteenth green before defeating Miss Florence Loew and Mr. A. G. Wellman. Miss Helen Moran and Mr. F. H. B. Byrne

General Pershing at Pier Increases Polo Interest
NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 19.
ID-AUGUST at Narragansett Pier finds the season still at flood tide, with hotels filled to their capacity and the polo tournament at the Point Judith Polo Club still holding its interest. Indeed, not since before the world war has there been so great an interest in polo and so excellent a tournament, a fact due to a large measure to Mr. Philip S. P. Randolph of Philadelphia and Wild Field Farm at the Pier, president of the Point Judith Polo Club.

The last week especially was a notable one in polo circles here. The coming of Gen. Pershing on Wednesday to witness the play of the Army men in their victory against the Meadow Brook Club in the finals for the junior championship called out a large and brilliant gallery. Gen. Pershing was the guest of honor at a large polo luncheon given by Mr. P. S. P. Randolph at Wild Field Farm before the game on Wednesday. The affair at the luncheon were the polo men in town and their ladies.

Another brilliant event of the past week was a dance and supper given at Hotel de la Plazuela on Thursday night by Mrs. George C. Dempsey of Boston in honor of Mrs. Pierce Butler of New York and Southampton, the fiancée of Mrs. Dempsey's son, Mr. Gerald Dempsey, who is to marry her on August 22. The affair was small and informal and ended with a dance at Oakwoods, the place of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Hazard at Peace Dale.

On Sunday a large buffet luncheon was given by Capt. and Mrs. Isaac E. Emerson at their villa, Whitehall on the Cliffs. More than eighty men and women of society from many cities were present, including a large contingent from New York and Philadelphia. The luncheon was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. McAdoo of New York and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McCormack of Baltimore, who are spending August at Whitehall.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Penna Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harrah, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., Mr. and

All Southampton Plans for Novel Ending of Season

Entire Community Interested in Theatrical Performance for Library.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 19.
WITH the season's end in view after Labor Day, when there will be a general flitting of the temporary visitors at this resort, efforts are being made to mark the finish with something novel in resort entertainments. To this end the preparations for the special performance of Ballet's "Chauve Souris" on the night of September 3 for the benefit of the Rogers Memorial Library are well under way and the entire summer colony is helping to make the day mark an epoch in the history of a place noted for the ingenuity of its summer entertainments. The street fair was first given in Southampton and the example has been followed not only in New York but in many other summer resorts.

It is something of an undertaking to transport an entire theatrical company from New York for a single performance but the difficulties have been overcome. The stage is being built in the garden of the Parish Art Museum where there is an open space surrounded by trees that makes a sort of natural amphitheater. The foliage will not intercept any view of the stage and there will be plenty of room for boxes and an entire seating capacity for 1,000 persons. There should be no difficulty in gaining an audience of such a number for even before circulars and tickets were printed many requests for boxes and seats were made.

Morris Gest will be here in person for the occasion and will bring with him the company numbering 120, including the principals, orchestra, stage hands and electricians necessary to the presentation of Mr. Ballet's charming Russian vaudeville.

Preparing Suitable Welcome.
Mr. Samuel L. Parrish, president of the library, is preparing a suitable welcome for the company and members of his company who are to arrive on the morning of the performance by special train. At the Southampton station they will be met by private automobiles and will be conveyed to the village of the villa of Mrs. Thomas H. Barker for luncheon. After that for rest and recreation they will go to Memorial Hall where the exhibition of paintings by the late William M. Chase will be on view. Owing to the matinee which is to be given on Labor Day on the Century Roof it will be necessary for the company to leave for New York immediately after the performance. A supper will be served on the special train.

The list of box holders includes Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Dr. and Mrs. Peter B. Weyler, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Berwind, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Snow, Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Maxwell, Mrs. Max and Mrs. E. H. Dilworth, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hamilton Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Guilford, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Derks, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gifford Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Sabin, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stuart Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Claflin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. MacKay. Boxes have been sold at $100 each and some of them have been resold by their original purchasers, the additional receipts being turned over to the general fund.

Other patrons and patronesses of the entertainment, all of whom are subscribers, are Mrs. Frederic H. Betts, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brees, Mrs. Charles R. Benson, Mrs. Charles E. Deane, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Frederick Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Coe, Mrs. Riley Miles Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cutting, Miss Juliana Cutting, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Fincke, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott, Mr. George Warrington Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips B. Thompson, Dr. George A. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. George A. Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian H. Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pelham Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Asher Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. F. Francis Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Butler Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. De W. Edwards, Dr. and Mrs. E. Schermerhorn.

Prepare for Early Dinners.
Early dinners will be the rule that night, as the performance will begin punctually at 9:15 and the audience is expected to be in place before that hour. Some of the leading bankers here for the summer have consented to act as ushers, to check hats and wraps, call motors and make themselves generally useful. Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Jr., will call to her aid to dispose of souvenir programs some of the younger married women and girls of the community. Interest in the event is widespread and not confined to the members of the temporary colony. There remain on sale a few boxes. Seats, unsold, will be sold on Wednesday night. Mrs. Barber, Mrs. Livingston or from Miss Julia W. Foster at the library.

That a local interest has been shown in the exhibition now being held in Memorial Hall as a tribute to the memory of the late William M. Chase, who was at the head of the Shinnecock Hills summer school of art, founded in 1892. It was the first school of its kind in this country, and after ten years of connection with it Mr. Chase used to take his pupils abroad to visit the famous galleries in Spain, Italy and other countries of Europe. The exhibition numbers more than fifty paintings by former pupils of the school, and there are also several by Mr. Chase loaned by his widow. It is related in Southampton that some of the pupils of the school who have since gained eminence in the world of art made great sacrifices to gain instruction offered by such a school. One of them lived for the summer in a fisherman's hut on the beach, paying for his board and lodging by cooking for the fisherman and his family. It is also related that one boy of small means lived on bread and milk all summer in order that he might be able to buy paint and canvas.

North Shore Plans Many Events for Close of August

Flower Show, Pageant and Whippet Derby Are on the Program.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BEVERLY, MASS., Aug. 19.
SELDOM has there been an August crowded with so many interesting events, and with many offerings planned for the balance of the month there will be an abundance of pleasure for the colonists and the sojourners on the North Shore. For the coming week many events are promised, including the annual flower show of the Horticultural Society on Tuesday and Wednesday, the pageant to be given at Beverly Farms on Saturday, and the American Whippet Derby to be staged at the Montserrat Club the same afternoon.

Bathing this week came again into favor with the afternoon tides and at West Beach at Beverly Farms, Singing Beach at Manchester and at the Magnolia and Gloucester beaches there were the largest gatherings of the season. Yachting at Marblehead still continues in favor, the sport having received a great impetus because of the visit of the New York Yacht Club and the success of race week, which brought out more than 200 craft.

A harbinger of the approaching autumn is the announcement that the twenty-sixth annual horse show of the Myopia Hunt Club of Hamilton will take place on the polo field on Labor Day. There are to be nine classes this year, one of the new events being a class for teams of two hunters, one horse to be ridden by a woman and the other by a man, both horses to be shown over the jumps together.

The feature classes will be the competition for the Abbott cup for the best green hunter owned by a member of or a subscriber to the Myopia Club, the Kennepicup cup for qualified hunters up to carrying 175 pounds, the Turner Hilly cup for qualified hunters up to carrying 200 pounds and the closing event, the Masters challenge cup for the best hunter.

Arranging Whippet Program.
Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Warren of Fride's Crossing are staging the whippet program at the Montserrat Club at Beverly on Saturday afternoon, August 26, for the benefit of a Beverly school. A classic in whippetdom is to be run this afternoon, the American Whippet Derby, and some of the fastest whippets in the country are to be entered.

There was a representative gathering of North Shore colonists at Dawson Hall, the summer home of the Misses Hunt at Burgess Point, Beverly, for a lecture on "Contemporary Spain," by Eleanor Markell. Following the lecture was served and many of the guests enjoyed the opportunity of visiting the Italian gardens on the estate.

Thomas P. Mandell, J. H. Whitney, Quincy A. Shaw 2d, and Dudley P. Rogers of the Myopia Hunt Club polo team have been in Montreal, where they have been playing in the International Polo Association. The interest in polo in Hamilton this season has shown much increase and all of the play, practice as well as tournament, has brought out large galleries. Plans are being made for a series of tournaments in September.

Stockbridge Will Revive Its Annual Ice Glen Parade

Historic Celebration to Be Repeated Next Month—News of Other Berkshire Towns.

STOCKBRIDGE, MASS., Aug. 19.

THE younger set at Stockbridge is to revive the Ice Glen parade the first week of September. This picturesque event was first held over sixty years ago, with David Dudley Field in charge. It commemorates the Stockbridge Indian custom of marching at night through the dismal cavern on Beartown Mountain after a victory over a hostile tribe.

The marchers dress in fantastic and grotesque costumes and carry lighted torches. Upon leaving the town they go to Recreation Park, where an Indian war dance is held about a big fire. Mr. Caspar C. de Gersdorf, a Harvard student, and Mr. and Mrs. Heaton Ives Treadway are interested in the revival. The parade was an annual event in the old days.

Stockbridge will be the golf center of the Berkshires the coming week, for the annual tournament will start on Wednesday with the Stockbridge cup as the principal trophy. The tournament committee consists of Messrs. Walter Nettleton, Frank E. Courson, Philip Blagden and Dr. Herbert F. Stockwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Washburn, of Hackensack, N. J., who with Miss Anne Washburn, are at the Red Lion Inn at Stockbridge, have had fine luck black bass fishing on Lake Mahkeenac this week. Mrs. Washburn landed four that weighed from four to five pounds and Mr. Washburn had one that tipped the scales at six pounds. They gave several bass dinner parties.

Present Play in Bungalow.
Players from the Playhouse on the Moors at East Gloucester presented Cheater's "Magic" at the bungalow of John Hays Hammond at Freshwater Cove at Gloucester last evening. In the cast were Leslie Buswell, Thomas Crosby, Lawrence Field, Edward Massey, Lester Day and Mrs. Madeline Massey. Through the season the Playhouse have been entertaining colonists with their offerings at the Playhouse on the Moors.

Elizabeth L. Flagler, of New York, were at the Red Lion during the week while touring the hills. Among others there are Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Talcott, Mr. and Mrs. Lynford McC. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner Trowbridge, Mrs. William B. Trowbridge, Mrs. Frank A. McLaughlin, Mrs. L. L. Cameron, Mrs. Howard S. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Grantland Rice, and Miss Florence Rice, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Baker, of Tenafly, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Reed, of East Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hallett, and Miss Margaret Halstead, of Goshen, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Platt, Jr., of Garden City, L. I. and Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Whitney, of White Plains, N. Y.

The expert fishermen among the Heaton Hall visitors at Stockbridge are Messrs. D. Bradley Martin, John W. Ruefer, Edward Todd and William A. Merrill of New York who frequently go over to Lake Garfield at Monterey where they catch trout. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cleveland, Mark Twain and Richard Watson Gilder caught some of the largest pickerel and bass ever landed in the hills.

Miss Reba Paley, of Brooklyn, N. Y., gave a dinner during the week while at the Red Lion during the week while touring the hills. Among others there are Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Talcott, Mr. and Mrs. Lynford McC. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner Trowbridge, Mrs. William B. Trowbridge, Mrs. Frank A. McLaughlin, Mrs. L. L. Cameron, Mrs. Howard S. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Grantland Rice, and Miss Florence Rice, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Baker, of Tenafly, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Reed, of East Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hallett, and Miss Margaret Halstead, of Goshen, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Platt, Jr., of Garden City, L. I. and Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Whitney, of White Plains, N. Y.

Several dinners and luncheons were given during the week for Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, who are at the Aspinwall hotel. Mrs. Robert Winthrop had a dinner for them, and Mrs. Henry C. Depew gave a luncheon at the Aspinwall hotel. Mrs. Depew gave a sitting this week at the Aspinwall for a silhouette by Mr. O. S. Allen, an artist of New York. Messrs. H. Bolton Jones and Mrs. R. K. Jones, also artists from New York, had a luncheon party at the Aspinwall on Tuesday.

With Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock, wife of Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, at the Aspinwall are Miss Hitchcock and Mrs. W. K. Campbell of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Samuel Russell, of Middletown, Conn., accompanied by Mrs. Henry Walker Bishop of New York spent the week there while Mr. Russell enjoyed golf. Among other arrivals were Mrs. E. C. Hopkins, Mr. G. Trowbridge Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Goodhart, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Peck, Mrs. L. Stuart Wing, Mrs. Theodore Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Jones, and Miss Augusta King of New York; Mr. Richard E. Holman and Miss Joan Holloman, of Rye, N. Y.; Mrs. J. C. Stewart, of Garden City, L. I., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond V. Ingalls, Mrs. A. H. Walker, Jr., and Mr. A. H. Walker 3d of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Among those who entertained at Wilmetton during the week were Mrs. William Page Andrews, a large dinner on Wednesday night; Mrs. Karl E. Weston, a luncheon for Misses. Stephan Panaretto, Sadao Saburi and Manoel de Oliveira Lima, of Washington; Miss Helen F. Clarke, a luncheon; Mr. and Mrs. Bentley Wirt Warren, a dinner for Mr. Joseph Redlich of Vienna, and Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Garfield, a series of small luncheons.
